ATTEMPT ON LIFE OF O.G.P.U. CHIEF Officer Disappears

Prague, February 7.
A mysterious attempt on the life of the Commissar for Home Affairs and Chief of the O.G.P.U., M. Yeshov, is reported in press despatches here from Moscow, which state that the unknown assailant fired on the Commissar as the latter was leaving the offices of the Communist Party Secretariat yesterday.

It is added that M. Yeshov immediately sought refuge in the building but the guard which was permanently on duty there failed to discover the culprit.

RIFLE SHOOTING

New Competition For Colonies

MAJOR D. H. STEERS ACTIVITY

A Far East postal match, which is expected to become a yearly event, is now being organized for Hong Kong, Ceylon, Singapore, and other Colonies, writes the Times' special correspondent from Bises Camp on January 23.

This is another result of the activity of Major D. H. Steers, R.E., who while stationed in Hong Kong has started the Hong Kong Rifle Association and has made it one of the biggest shooting organizations in the Empire.

It now has nearly 700 subscribing members, besides all those entitled to shoot in its competitions through the affiliation of H.M. ships, regiments, and clubs.

There are now a number of postal matches which are shot annually between groups of Colonies, and their growth is to be traced directly to the starting of the Junior Kolapore by the N.R.A. and to the association's Oversea 303 Postal Match.

The N.R.A. team in Australia has now returned to Sydney from Tasmania, and at last has a chance of settling down for some much-needed quiet practice and investigation of the new rifles which were taken into use on arrival in Australia. After the match against New South Wales, the team has no engagements till the New South Wales meeting begins. The chief prize at this meeting is 500 guineas, competed for in conditions somewhat similar to those of our King's Prize.

SMALL-BORE CLUBS

The biggest shoulder-to-shoulder inter-association match for women yet organized was held on the range of the Crown Agents Rifle Club at Millbank recently. Teams of 10 from the Civil Service, the Middlesex Association, and the City of London League took part, shooting two series of 10 shots at 25 yards. The match was won by the City of London League with 1,941 out of 2,000. The Middlesex Association scored 1,939 and the Civil Service 1,888.

The Little Boy Got Up And Slowly Walked Away

RAGGED, barefoot, name unknown, a little boy was bowling his hoop along Des Voeux Road yesterday afternoon. Not a thought in the world except for his latest toy, a rattan binding off a barrel, picked up along the waterfront.

Au Yeung-hong was a licensed driver; he had work to do. The street was crowded, called for careful driving.

The little boy kept bowling his hoop. Au was approaching the World Theatre.

Suddenly the little boy's hoop swerved. After it he dashed into the middle of the road.

Au stiffened in his seat, applied his brakes. Too late, there was a crash. The car had hit the little boy, knocked him down.

Horried, Au hurried to the front of his car. A crowd had gathered. The little boy must be hurt, might be dead.

But the little boy knew different. Slowly he gazed around at the anxious faces, slowly he got up, brushed his ragged clothes and slowly walked away.

In the gutter nearby lay a crumpled bit of rattan, once a hoop.

"Insolent Demarche"

Tokyo, Feb. 7.

The Yomuri Shimbun understands that at a conference high officials of the Japanese Admiralty discussed the Notes presented by Britain and the United States for information of Japan's naval building.

The paper points out that Japan withdrew from the Washington and London Treaties in 1936 and she was therefore freed from the restrictions stipulated by those Treaties. Britain and the United States, the paper says, "must have lost their minds to demand from Japan information of her naval building, in threatening terms."

Both the Japanese Government and people feel strong indignation over the "insolent demarche" made by Britain and America "in utter disregard of international usage and diplomatic language," says the paper.

Describing the circumstances leading to Japan's withdrawal from the London Naval Conference, the newspaper declares that Japan has no treaty obligation to give Britain and America information on her own naval building. Japan's navy was inferior to those of Britain and America in quantity, therefore, the paper asserts, it is natural that Japan seeks to make for inferiority in quantity by improving the quality of her navy.

Therefore, Britain and America "expect an impossibility of Japan in demanding information regarding her warships."

"Britain and America will be guilty of a serious blunder if they underestimate Japan's real strength as a result of the China incident, and want to force her to yield to their premeditated demand," the paper concludes. (Reuter).

STATEMENT READ

Tokyo, Feb. 7.
Dealing with the naval Notes from Britain and the United States, the spokesman of the Japanese Foreign Office at today's press conference read a statement declaring that Japan would always be prepared to consider any proposal based on non-menace and non-aggression.

Japan, at the present, had no plan for the construction of 43,000-ton battleships.

The spokesman added that the Japanese people were under the impression that an armament race had already been started by other naval Powers.

The Japanese soldiers plucked his beard and threatened him.

There are 42 foreigners remaining in Hangchow. (Central News).

JAPAN'S "EMPIRE DAY"

February 11 To Be Proclaimed

Tokyo, Feb. 7.

The terms of the amnesty to be proclaimed on February 11 as "Empire Day" have been decided by the Cabinet at an emergency meeting held on February 5.

Before the measure is announced, it will have to secure Imperial approval.

As the prelude to the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the promulgation of the constitution on Japan's "Empire Day" (February 11), bronze statues of the three great Japanese statesmen of the Meiji Period will be unveiled in the Diet building on February 10.

The unveiling ceremony, which is to be held at 9 a.m. in the Central hall of the building, will honour Prince Hirobumi Ito, Marquis Shigenobu Okuma and Count Taisuke Inagaki.

On behalf of both chambers in the Diet, Mr. Yukio Ozaki will present branches of a sacred tree in honour of the memory of the famous statesmen. Mr. Ozaki is the only person, among the 800 members of both houses, who enjoys the distinction of having been acquainted with all three men. (Reuter).

AGE CONDEMNNS AGGRESSION

Kweiyang, Feb. 7.

Kweiyang held a unique meeting against foreign aggression when over 1,000 grizzly bearded old men gathered at the local Party Headquarters to denounce the Japanese military invasion of China at one o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The city's grandfathers, mostly septuagenarians and octogenarians, formed a most impressive gathering. Displaying their philippic eloquence, many of them delivered lengthy addresses condemning Japanese imperialism.

A resolution was passed to cable the International Anti-Aggression Association, asking their help to China, while a circular letter, signed by every one of the old

Said The Duke Was Angry With Author

A Settlement was announced in the King's Bench Division on Jan. 20 of a libel action arising out of a paragraph in "The Leader" in connection with a book which Mr. Compton Mackenzie had proposed to write about the Duke of Windsor, states the "Evening Standard."

Mr. Compton Mackenzie was the plaintiff, and it was stated that the defendants, Associated Periodicals, Ltd., and Newnes and Pearson Printing Company, Ltd., publishers and printers respectively of "The Leader," had apologised and agreed to pay Mr. Mackenzie a substantial sum as compensation, and his costs.

Mr. Justice Charles allowed the record in the case to be withdrawn on these terms.

Mr. Gerald Gardiner (for Mr. Mackenzie) said that the paragraph complained of was published on December 11 last, under the heading, "The Duke of Windsor Angry Unauthorised Life Not Wanted."

"In July last, Mr. Mackenzie formed a project to write a book about the Duke of Windsor," continued Mr. Gardiner.

INDIGNANT

"He was highly indignant at certain rumours that were current, and took the view that the abdication had given rise to certain Constitutional questions which had not received adequate consideration."

"He held the view—and still holds the view—that the Duke and Duchess of Windsor had received from this country—and particularly from certain elements—the consideration which they deserved."

"He accordingly placed himself in communication with the Duke in order to ascertain whether such work would meet with his Royal Highness's consent and approval."

"The Duke's reply was that he would gladly welcome anything which Mr. Mackenzie might feel inclined to write."

Mr. Justice Charles agreed to the record in the action being withdrawn on the terms endorsed on counsel's briefs.

"Two or three months passed and Mr. Mackenzie had commenced work on the book when there unhappily appeared in a Sunday organ of the Press a highly-coloured and sensational article purporting to deal with the matter."

"The Duke thereupon did that which he was entitled to do. He changed his mind."

SOLICITORS' STATEMENT
"He, no doubt, took the view that, having regard to that publicity, it was undesirable that he should give consent or official approval to the work."

"His solicitors caused to be published a statement to the effect that, in view of what had appeared in the Press, it seemed desirable to state that the Duke did not intend to give approval or authority for the writing of any biography, or to give any information for the writing of such work."

Mr. Gardiner said that "The Leader" thereupon published the paragraph in question, which was to the effect that the Duke was very annoyed with Mr. Mackenzie. It implied that Mr. Mackenzie was falsely pretending that he was writing the work with the consent and approval of the Duke, and had made that false statement for the purpose of "putting" the sales of the book.

That was an imputation which Mr. Mackenzie had to challenge and the present action was begun.

It was only right to say that, as soon as the defendants found there was no warranty for any such imputation, they published an apology in "The Leader" and further agreed to pay Mr. Mackenzie's costs and a substantial sum by way of damages.

Mr. Mackenzie had agreed to accept those terms of settlement, it having been established that there was no such warranty for the allegation complained of.

Mr. Cyril Hardy (for the defendants) said that they welcomed the opportunity of retracting the imputation made against Mr. Mackenzie.

Mr. Justice Charles agreed to the record in the action being withdrawn on the terms endorsed on counsel's briefs.

ROBIN HOOD AND HIS MERRY MEN

After ranging gaily through songs and ballads, books and plays, and at least one film, "Robin Hood" shoots his latest arrow into the air. He has given his name to a play with music to be broadcast from Davenport tonight. The book is by D. F. Atten, Robert Chignell has written the music, and Pascoe Thornton is the producer.

Exactly how much historical support can be given to the legends that have grown up round Robin Hood is doubtful, but one author, who collected all the ancient songs and ballads about the outlaw, says definitely that he was born at Locksley, in Nottinghamshire, about 1180, that his true name was Robert Fitz-Ooth, and that he was commonly reputed to

Seldom does a book come to the screen with the background of tradition which distinguishes "Heidi", famous story of Johanna Spyri read and loved by millions the world over and now produced by Twentieth Century-Fox with Shirley Temple starred in the title role, concurrently at the King's Theatre.

"Heidi" was originally published in German by an author who had achieved no unusual prominence until the appearance of this masterpiece. In the years that followed the classic sold into millions of copies and was translated into all modern languages. It appears on the prescribed reading lists of schools all over the world.

Jean Hersholt is featured as "Heidi's" grandfather for the characters in the story, adapted to the screen by Walter Ferris and Julien Josephson, include Arthur Treacher as Andrews, the Sesemanns' butler and Helen Westley as "Blind Anna." Puline Moore, portraying Elsa, supplies the romantic interest opposite Thomas Beck as "Pastor Schmidt." Mary Nash is "Fraulein Rottenmeier," Sidney Blackmer plays "Herr Sesemann," and Mady Christians, "Aunt Dete."

"LIFE OF EMILE ZOLA"

One of the greatest claims to fame possessed by the Republic of France is that it was the birthplace and the homeland of Emile Zola, the immortal novelist. His name is to France what Shakespeare's is to England.

And now, for the first time, Zola reaches the films. With Paul Muni in the name part, "The Life of Emile Zola," an immense production by Warner Bros., showing at the Queen's Theatre today. There is a strong temptation, of course, to compare this epic drama with the one that gained for Muni, last year, the Motion Picture Academy's award for the best performance by an actor in 1936—"The Story of Louis Pasteur."

It runs through the entire career of Zola. First he is seen as a struggling young writer, some times obliged to pawn even his shirt for bread. Then he meets the girl of the streets, "Nana" (Played by Erin O'Brien-Moore) whose life he depicts in a novel that earns him enormous sums and lifts him to international fame.

But most of the story has to do with Zola's courageous defence of Captain Alfred Dreyfus, the army officer who was framed on a false charge of selling secrets to Germany, and who was sent to the horrors of Devil's Island.

In RKO Radio's uproarious comedy, "High Flyers," co-starring Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey, instead of a dance ensemble for the song number entitled "Keep Your Head Above Water," the girls of the chorus stage a swimming exhibition timed to music and boasting of as many intricacies as a dance.

The twelve girls were picked from the ranks of the swimming team at the University of California, Los Angeles, and from among amateur and professional

CHINESE EXECUTED BY JAPANESE

Seven Plainclothes Men

Convicted in a Japanese military court-martial of engaging in activities detrimental to the safety of the Japanese expeditionary forces, seven Chinese were executed by the Japanese gendarmes on January 28, a Japanese Army communiqué announced last week, states the North China Daily News. The execution took place at an undisclosed place on Range Road, according to the announcement.

The convicted men were tried on January 19 on charges of having engaged in anti-Japanese activities as members of a mobile unit of the Kiangsu-Chekiang Executive Committee of the former Nanking Government.

Their names were given as Chou Chi-tang, Fang Chia-chuan, Yang Kuang-lan, Hsu Hsiang-kwei, Chang Man-kun, Ku Jen-yuan and Chen Kung-lin.

Questioned whether the alleged terrorists had been arrested by the Settlement police, a military spokesman stated that he had no information; nor could he give the time and place of their being apprehended. He further said that they were shot behind walls in the Settlement and that the execution was closed to the public.

It was also affirmed that they were arrested for terrorism, but no information was available whether their acts had been directed against Chinese. Accused were allowed to state their case, but differing from court-martial in Japan during peace time the men were not allowed benefit of counsel.

SCHOOLS SHOULD TEACH HOME MANAGEMENT
Whitehall Report Recommendation

The importance of teaching girls the art of home management is referred to by Sir Arthur MacNalty, Chief Medical Officer of the Board of Education, in his annual report on "The Health of the School Child."

Experience shows, says the report, that malnutrition in the child is often not the result of poverty. It is frequently due to ignorance of proper food values and "unphysiological dieting."

"The future mothers of the race must be better prepared for their life-work."

During 1936-37 139,662 children received free solid meals. This is a small reduction on the figure of 143,179 for 1935-36, but the fall is considerably less than that which occurred between 1934-35 and 1935-36.

The total number of meals provided free increased from 87,000,000 in 1935-36 to over 100,000,000 in 1936-37. The increase was due to the rapid rise in the number of free milk meals, which increased from 42,800,000 in 1934-35 to 78,300,000 in 1936-37.

In that year nearly 485,000 children were given milk, compared with 406,300 in 1935-36.

The continued fall in the number of children receiving free solid meals appears to be mainly due to the improved industrial position.

From the reports of school medical officers it appears that in many areas the physique of elementary schoolchildren, as shown by height and weight measurements, has continued to improve.

"Nevertheless," adds the report, "some Special Areas do not participate in the general improvement of the nutritional state. Not only do they remain relatively worse than the more prosperous areas, but also the differentiation seems more pronounced."

WEE WILLIE WINKIE

Adventure as only Rudyard Kipling could write it blazes the screen in the Twentieth Century-Fox picturization of his "Wee Willie Winkie," which opened yesterday at the Majestic Theatre with Shirley Temple and Victor McLaglen in the starring roles.

Adventure—rugged as the tilted Highlands holding Khyber Pass, colourful as India's jeweled and brazen hues, strange as the skirling bagpipes on the roof of Asia, romantic as empire's last untamed frontier—fills every moment of this exciting film, the most spectacular production in which Shirley Temple has ever appeared.

When the bonnie plaid of Scotland flashes on India's saffron hills, and war-mad tribesmen strike from Khyber Pass, when the rifles crack and the Pathans raid, when the bagpipes skirl and the regiment charges—you'll know that you're seeing one of the greatest pictures ever made, with a Shirley Temple whose power to stir your emotions will be the wonder of your life.

GIGANTIC BATTLESHIPS BUILDING

Britain Will Not Log Behind

London, Feb. 7.

The Daily Telegraph's naval correspondent says the British Navy estimates, to be introduced at the end of the month, provide for additional battleships and cruisers designed within treaty limits—thirty-five thousand tons for the former and eight thousand for the latter.

Alternative plans for larger and more powerful types have also been prepared, however, and these will be adopted if the Japanese reply is in any way unsatisfactory. It is understood that it is proposed to lay down from three to five battleships during the summer and autumn. If it becomes known that Japan is constructing vessels above treaty limits, this year's British battleships will exceed forty thousand tons and mount formidable armament of sixteen inch guns. In the same eventuality the new cruisers may be ships of ten thousand tons with eight inch guns.

The correspondent adds that in British naval quarters it is believed Japan has already on the stocks two battleships of more than 40,000 tons and that two further units are about to be laid down. (Reuter)

Subject to the approval of their Majesties, the committee will invite President Lebrun to be present at the same time.

TORONTO BABY RACE

Will Held Valid By Supreme Court Of Canada

The Supreme Court of Canada recently upheld the clause in the will of Mr. Charles Vance Millar, a Toronto lawyer, by which his estate now worth $150,000 is to go to the Toronto mother who has given birth to the largest number of children in the 10 years since his death in October, 1926. The Court left to the Ontario Courts the task of determining the mother entitled from among a dozen or more claimants.

One of the leading contestants is Mrs. W. J. Kenny, who gave birth to her sixteenth child. The baby, a girl, was stillborn.

KAISER'S GRANDSON AS GERMAN MONARCH

Alleged Royalist Plot Foiled In Germany

Paris, Feb. 7. A remarkable story of a royalist plot in Germany is told by the Basle correspondent of Le Temps who states he received information from people who left Berlin yesterday that the crisis was brought to a head by General Himmler handing Hitler, on January 30, a dossier purporting to show that Von Fritsch and other Generals had formed a secret organisation for putting the second son of the Crown Prince on the throne.

The informants referred to Himmler's animosity to the Reichswehr and asserted that he gave the Soviet Ambassador last summer information with regard to secret contacts between certain

CHINESE PRESS STRONGLY ON WUHU

Fresh Assault Being Made From Three Sides

Tsingyang, February 7.

Wuhu, bone of contention between Chinese and Japanese forces in their struggle along the lower reaches of the Yangtze, will be the scene of another fierce battle when Chinese troops have completed their arrangement for a fresh assault on the invaders from three sides.

Taking advantage of the muddy terrain following torrential rain, a Chinese brigade stole a crossing of the Yangtze and flanked the left wing of the Japanese troops at Wuhu yesterday morning.

Simultaneously, a determined counter-attack was launched by the Chinese forces at Lukang, seven miles west of Wuhu on the river. Taken unawares, the Japanese at Lukang were routed from the main streets and retreated towards the hills behind the town.

To the right of Wuhu, a detachment of Chinese troops, having obtained effective co-operation from the main forces operating in the vicinity, opened an attack on the invaders from Kweitan. At Chaosheng, nine miles south of Wuhu, Chinese troops are extremely active, harassing Japanese positions pending the opening of a concerted attack from all sides.

AT GATES OF YUANG

Kinhwa, Feb. 7.

A fierce battle in a heavy snow, in which Japanese artillery fire was robbed of their mark by the white blanket, brought Chinese troops right to the gates of the battered city of Yuang, ten miles west of Hangchow, at 9.25 o'clock yesterday morning.

The main forces of the Japanese were disgorged from the city and have retreated towards Hangchow.

To defeat the maze of land mines and charged barbed wires inside, Chinese troops have not entered the city, but are closely guarding the eastern gate and mopping up the remnant of Japanese invaders scattered in the outskirts of the city.

Following on their success, the main body of Chinese troops are advancing towards Hangchow and Kungshenkiao.

CROSSING ATTEMPT FRUSTRATED

Hsuehchow, Feb. 7.

Several attempts by the Japanese troops at Pengpu to cross the Hwai River were frustrated by alert Chinese defenders on the northern bank on the night of February 6.

The Japanese made the attempt to cross in small launches, under cover of artillery fire from the southern bank.

Chinese forces, on the approach of the Japanese, released a withering hail of machine-gun fire on the hapless Japanese launches, killing about fifty men and capturing three or four of the boats.

The Japanese attempt to steal a crossing was repeated at several different points along the river, but was repeatedly frustrated by Chinese vigilance.

Large fires were set by the Japanese troops on row after row of

A strongly-worded note expressing dissatisfaction with the repeated attacks on British shipping has been despatched to General Franco by the British Government, following yesterday's ministerial meeting.

Although the text of the note will not be disclosed until Mr. Eden makes a statement in the Commons, it is believed the note indicates clearly that British patience has been thoroughly exhausted. (Reuter)

The razor is made in two pieces instead of three, as formerly, thus making it easier and quicker to clean, assemble and use.

The blades are made by the new electrical-tempering process. They give not only closer, cleaner shaves than you have ever had before, but also more shaves per blade.

The case is ideal for hot and humid climates as it is so easy to keep clean.

Tribute to the extensive activities of the Association was paid by His Excellency the Governor, Sir Geoffrey Northcote, yesterday when he made his first official visit to the European Y.M.C.A. at Kowloon. After having tiffin with the directors and members, the Governor inspected the building.

During a brief speech, Sir Geoffrey Northcote said he was thankful that the Y.M.C.A. was flourishing in Hong Kong and wished it further success in the future.

Members of the official party included the Hon. Sir Henry Follock (president), Mr. P. S. Cassidy (vice-president), Commodore E. B. C. Dicken, Professor R. Robertson, and Messrs. A. W. Tickle, A. S. MacKichan, C. C. Roberts, A. W. Hughes, F. H. Crapnell, L. C. F. Bellamy (directors) and A. W. Ingram (secretary).

CHINESE PRODUCTS EXHIBITION

Successful Session

The Chinese Products Exhibition, sponsored by the Y.M.C.A., Y.W.C.A., and the Chinese Manufacturers' Union, closed yesterday after a very successful four-day session. It is estimated that during the period it was open, more than 5,000 people visited the Exhibition.

That there is a definitely hopeful future for native Chinese products is proven by the extensive interest taken in the Exhibition and the total of purchases actually made and orders placed, which run into several thousand dollars.

If it has done nothing but to show the universality and efficiency of Chinese manufacture, the Exhibition would have served its purpose.

An additional point which has evoked much favourable comment was the high quality of the goods displayed.

JAPAN AND FOREIGN TRADE

One of the most important problems confronting the economic leaders of Japan is foreign trade. As a direct result of the campaign in China, the export trade of Japan has fallen so sharply that the situation threatens to assume very acute proportions unless something is done to bring about an improvement.

The expansion of Japan's exports is essential in order that the importation of certain essential materials may be effected, but, with the position as it is at present, chances of any improvement seem decidedly remote.

According to a report received in the Colony several days ago, one source, which claims to be authoritative in all its statements, says that the reason for the decline in Japan's exports is the serious trade depression in Europe and America where purchasing power has been waning of late.

Having given the subject deep study, we are at one with this source of information when it says that the exports of Japan have declined to such an extent as to be alarming, but we would add that the reason for this is far from Europe and America being in the throes of an economic depression.

Rather it is because the peoples of the world have, on their own account, decided that an economic war against Japan is the most likely weapon to bring the country's militarists to their senses and thus put an end to the war of aggression in China.

Trade figures recently released show that the foreign trade of Japan for the second ten days of January 1938, including Korea, Formosa and Karafuto, resulted in an adverse balance of ¥27,015,000, this figure being arrived at after a balance between ¥70,658,000 for exports and ¥97,671,000 for imports had been struck. As compared with the previous ten days of January, exports show an increase of ¥58,522,000 and imports ¥68,993,000 with a net increase of ¥10,471,000 in the import excess.

Reports received in Hong Kong from all parts of the world indicate that the feeling against the Japanese caused by their ruthless destruction of an innocent people is daily growing in intensity and with it the determination to make Japan an outcast, insofar as trade is concerned. Rich as the suave Japanese propagandists claim their country to be as regards raw materials, there is no denying the fact that there are some very essential materials which have to be exported to Japan.

While the countries from where these raw materials are obtained are still willing enough to sell to Japan, they are no longer as generous with the granting of credits, short term or otherwise, and as the people themselves have instituted an economic boycott against Japan, how is she to bring about a favourable trade balance? Another thing that will seriously affect Japan's foreign trade is the continued refusal by the wharf workers in many countries to work any ship carrying cargo to or from Japan. Only the other day we had an instance of a Japanese steamer leaving London without cargo and if this is to go on for any length of time there can be only one result—financial ruin for Japan.

Japan is already on the brink of this and as the stubbornness of her militarists appears to be the best guarantee that she will fall into ruin, the day does not seem far off when cables reaching the Colony tell not of how much the Japanese troops have advanced, but perhaps how the revolution in Japan itself has been progressing!

An interesting lecture on engineering was given by Mr. James Smith at the University last night. Mr. Smith, who is Chief Mechanical Engineer in the Kowloon-Canton Railway, spoke on "The Streamlining of High Speed Trains."

CORRESPONDENCE

(To the Editor, "The Hong Kong Daily Press")

Dear Sir,—I shall be glad if you will be kind enough to publish the following lines in your letter column which always welcomes and provides free discussion on present Sino-Japanese troubles.

As far as I can see, very few of my fellow countrymen in this colony show any interest in giving aid to the invaded Chinese, who are fighting and defending their country against Japanese barbarism, Fascism, and Imperialism, which are becoming a menace to the civilisation of the world.

Our people at home are, by far, more energetic than we, as far as aid to China are concerned. Why are we so dead-asleep and cold towards aids to China?

It is high time for us to do something, otherwise we will be sufferers too, if China is conquered. I have started to buy the Chinese Liberty Bonds—30 dollars worth out of my 200 dollars salary. And I am going to buy them until the undeclared war is over.

I will kowtow to those of my countrymen who will do as I have done. If we cut down our drinks we can play our part with ease. At the same time the part we play will encourage the rich Chinese, who have, so far, given scanty aid, to give more.

With many thanks in advance—
Yours faithfully,

A PRO-CHINESE BRITISH.

TRIBUTE TO CHINA

European's $100 Gift

The Malaya Tribune received a letter from a European resident of Singapore enclosing a cheque for $100 for the China Relief Fund. The letter pays a tribute to China's stout resistance to Japanese aggression, and reads as follows:—

(To the Editor of the "Malaya Tribune").
Sir,—I feel so happy that China's stout resistance shows no signs of collapsing and that it has already taken such a toll of Japan's resources that now, despite Sir Cecil Clement and Sir Ian Hamilton, we are not likely to be in danger for many a year.

As a small thank offering I have great pleasure in sending herewith a small cheque for the benefit of the China Relief Fund. Perhaps you will be kind enough to pass it on to the right place—Yours etc.,
A EUROPEAN.

Singapore, Jan. 29.
The cheque has been duly forwarded.

Sergeant Downman, who prosecuted, said the man had seven convictions, the first eight years ago.

Kan Tong, 55, and Cheung Kin-shing, 44, both street coolies, were given seven days' hard labour each by Mr. R. A. D. Forrest, at Central Magistrate's, yesterday, for larceny of a large chopping block, valued at $18, from the back door of No. 256, Des Voeux Road West, on Sunday.

The block was so big that it could not be brought into court. Inspector W. Maif prosecuted.

GOVERNOR'S SPEECH

After distributing the awards, His Excellency said:—

Commissioner of Police, Officers and Men of the Hong Kong Police Force.—It is with much pleasure that I find myself here today presenting these medals to those who have so well deserved them. A Long Service Police Medal on a man's chest indicates that for 18 years he has served the public faithfully and well in a difficult job and it is therefore something of which he may be justly proud. It is a proof that for half his life he has been a good and reliable citizen. I have described Police work as difficult.

Most men know what will fall to be done by them in the course of their daily work be they carpenters, typists, soldiers or in other employment; moreover, they know that their hours of work will be limited. But the policeman never knows when some unforeseen emergency for which perhaps he has had no special training will turn up; he has just to do the best he can in the circumstances. Again, he is always liable to be called up for extra duty when he has done his day's work without even knowing how long he will have to remain on that extra duty. Lastly, there rests upon him a very special responsibility towards his fellow creatures.

The fact that the Hong Kong Police have so high a place in the public regard and are given the confidence which they enjoy from the people of Hong Kong is a proof that the Police Force of this Colony does its work competently and reliably and I am very glad to have this opportunity of saying so to you in public.

STRENUOUS YEAR

I have spoken of the difficulties which a policeman normally has to face in the course of his duty; but I suppose not for a long time has the Hong Kong Police had a more strenuous year than that which ended a little over a month ago, 1937, with its problems arising from Shanghai refugees, cholera and a quite abnormal typhoon, not to mention the heavy work of Coronation time, is not one that will quickly be forgotten by the Force and I wish to congratulate and commend the Force most warmly for the way in which it stood up to the tremendous strain of last year.

The Secretary of State himself had sent out a special message, which I had great pleasure in passing on.

In particular I wish to congratulate the two officers of the District Watch Force on their excellent work for that Force and P. C. Bakhtaw Singh on gaining the Hong Kong Police Medal for 1937.

I hope that 1938 will prove to be an easier time but even if it does not I am confident that the Hong Kong Police will face it with as much credit as they did the difficulties of last year.

His Excellency then inspected the Gaol, the Magistrate's and Station Buildings.

Mr. C. G. Percue, Deputy Commissioner of Police, was in charge of the parade.

CHINA REVIEW

Wartime Training

All Chinese students in middle schools, universities and technical colleges throughout the country will undergo a strict wartime training according to a new programme mapped out by the educational authorities in China. Students who volunteer to do front line work at once must first complete a special military training course, after which they will be sent to the front lines for duty.

Another plan, which is more comprehensive, attempts to build up a formidable force of young men who will assist the country in many ways to carry on the prolonged war of defence against Japan.

While these students are attending their regular classes in the various schools they will be given special courses in national defence and various duties behind the lines. Students will also be given special training in the technical institutions in various lines such as mechanical and electrical engineering, chemistry, first aid, medicine, and other studies. Administrative work will also be stressed such as economic control and food production.

Students undergoing such training will receive instructions and orders from the military commander in that locality.

Caring For Wounded

During the earlier stages of the hostilities the main work of the Red Cross in Shanghai was concerned with caring for the Chinese wounded. (The Japanese had their own organisations for this purpose). The initial cost of the medical supplies furnished by the Red Cross was alone over $100,000. The authorities of the two foreign municipalities limited the number to be cared for in these areas at properly accommodated, but the number was soon increased to 6,000 and for nearly all the time that hostilities continued in the neighbourhood of Shanghai the number cared for by the Red Cross Society was scarcely ever less than this limit.

Because practically all services, accommodation and a considerable amount of supplies were given free the cost averaged only a little over one dollar each month for each wounded man. Theatres, cabarets, schools, the famous Henry Lester Medical Research Institute and other buildings were transformed into hospitals without cost to the Society.

Up to the middle of December last the 24 emergency hospitals and 15 affiliated hospitals had treated over 40,000 wounded. In addition to this assistance the Society had evacuated over 25,000 of the less badly wounded who could not be accommodated in Shanghai to their homes at a cost of about $4 per head—a total cost of over $100,000. Eight first-aid corps were organised and maintained at the battle-front and more than 30 ambulances were provided by the Red Cross alone to bring in the wounded.

The care of the wounded, important as it is, presents, however, only a small part of the work of the Red Cross. The problems associated with refugees and the wholesale destitution caused by the destruction of over 2,000 industrial enterprises in the Shanghai area alone are far more complex.

GAOL AND CANING

Remanded for medical examination to see if he were fit for a caning. Seen Wing, who was convicted of larceny from the person of a woman on Saturday, was yesterday sentenced to one month's hard labour and eight strokes of the cane by Mr. R. A. D. Forrest, at Central Magistrate's.

COOLIES CHARGED

Appearing on a charge of demanding money with menaces, before Mr. K. M. A. Barnett, at the Kowloon Magistrate's, yesterday, three coolies, Ma Fat, Chan Wing-kai and Fan Chai, were formally remanded for seven days. Hearing was fixed for next Tuesday.

REVOLVER HOLD-UP ALLEGED Chinese To Stand Trial

Yu Wai, aged 27, was committed by Mr. R. A. D. Forrest, at Central Magistrate's, yesterday, to stand trial at the Criminal Sessions on a charge of robbery by two or more at No. 42, Lockhart Road, third floor, on January 9, when $810 in money and jewellery valued at $75 were stolen.

Another man was charged with Yu, but he was released.

Detective sub-inspector W. N. Darkin prosecuted.

The prosecution alleges, briefly, that defendant, with another man, gained entry into the address at 7 a.m., bound and gagged complainant, Mr. Ma Lap-pak, and his wife, and ransacked the place.

Defendant had a revolver with which he menaced the inmates when he first entered the house.

LOCAL ESTATES

Retired Accountant Leaves $46,200

Hau Sung Hin, retired accountant, late of No. 11 Gresson Street, first floor, who died at the age of 56 on August 9, 1937, left local estate sworn under $46,200. Probate of the will of the deceased has been granted to Hau Leung Shi, widow, and Han Kwong Chuen, export merchant, both of the same address.

Local estate to the value of $2,500 was left by Mr. Choi Tung Yek, accountant, late of No. 19 Hing Lung Lane, Canton, who died intestate at the age of 40 on August 19, 1937. Letters of administration to the estate of the deceased have been granted to Wan Ping Hung, of No. 11 Jones Street, Tai Hang.

Letters of administration to the estate, sworn under $900, of Tam Wai Chau, retired bookkeeper, have been granted by Tam Chan Shi, widow, of No. 181 Queen's Road Central, deceased, late of Ngai Han Village, Chungshan District, Kwangtung, died intestate at the age 56 on October 25, 1933.

CHUNGKING-INDO-CHINA HIGHWAY

Completed And Opened To Traffic

Shanghai, February 7.
In order to facilitate the shipment of French supplies reaching China from the south, strenuous efforts are being made to improve communications from the French Indo-China border, the Associated Press reported from Hankow.

Mr. Peng Hsu-pel, the Vice-Minister of Communications, announced that a new highway, running all the way from Chungking to the Indo-China border, via Kweichow and Kunming, was opened to traffic recently considerably facilitating the transport of the French imports.

Another important highway connecting Yunnanfu and North Burma, the Vice-Minister also disclosed, is expected to be rushed to completion within three or four months by using volunteer as well as regular labour.

NEW RAILWAY
Communications Minister Chang Kila-ngau is now reported in Kwangsi, inspecting the construction of a branch of the Canton-Hankow Railway, linking Kweilin and Lungchow on the Indo-China frontier.

The New York Times correspondent meanwhile reports that the Sino-Soviet highway following the ancient caravan route across Sinkiang is proving of great importance both politically and for the purpose of bringing in Soviet supplies for the Chinese army. (International News Agency).

NO ALARM IN CANTON

South China Threat Exaggerated?

Canton, Feb. 7.
The alarming reports in the Hong Kong newspapers hardly reflect Canton's views regarding the latest Japanese threat to South China.

The excitement which followed the recent proclamation of martial law throughout the city has died down considerably, though several rumours are still circulating one of which is to the effect that three Japanese divisions have arrived from Formosa and may possibly carry out operations in South China before February 9.

General Wu Teh Chen, the Governor, told Reuters: "I have also heard this, but my information is that the situation has improved rather than otherwise," adding that the Japanese troops which landed at Chiklau Island yesterday morning departed at 5 p.m.

Other authoritative sources point out that these frequent bombardments and landings in Kwangtung are not to be interpreted as a major offensive in South China.

In any event the Chungshan district is adequately prepared to meet such an invasion. Meanwhile, the military authorities, as a precautionary measure, are still refusing to permit river vessels to pass the barrier. (Reuters).

TO DEFEND KWANGTUNG

Hankow, Feb. 7.

That Kwangtung must be defended at all costs is urged by the Ta Kung Pao, local popular vernacular journal, in an editorial.

The Japanese attack on the Bocca Tigris Forts and other moves along the Kwangtung coast, the paper believes, are carried out according to a pre-conceived plan and are calculated to an invasion of the whole province and the cutting of South China's communication with the outside world. (Central News).

GERMAN DIPLOMATIC APPOINTMENTS

Berlin, Feb. 7.

Although no official statement is yet forthcoming concerning the appointments of new ambassadors to replace those whose retirements were announced last week, political circles believe that the Reich Minister, Dr. Frank, will be appointed to Rome; the Ambassador in Salamanca, Herr von Stohrer to London; the former Ambassador to Vienna, Herr von Papen, to Salamanca; the Moscow Ambassador, Herr von der Schulenburg, to Tokyo; and the Consul-General in Shanghai, Colonel Hermann Kreibitz to Vienna. (Transocean).

JAPANESE MUNITION DUMPS DESTROYED

Shanghai, Feb. 7.

Chinese reports stated today that Yuanping, 80 miles north of Taiyuanfu, was enveloped by Chinese forces after destruction of Japanese munition dumps by a sortie conducted by irregulars.

NEWSPAPER EDITOR DECAPITATED

Shanghai, Feb. 7.

In the French Concession today, the police found a decapitated head in an alleyway with a note pinned on saying: "Beware of co-operating with the Japanese."

The head, which appeared to have been chopped off with an axe, is believed to have belonged to T. T. Tsai, editor of the Social Evening News, an allegedly pro-Japanese newspaper. This is the most gruesome crime perpetrated by terrorists who have so far contented themselves to use pistols and hand-grenades. (Reuters).

HEAD IDENTIFIED

Shanghai, Feb. 7.

Weeping bitterly, a sister identified the decapitated head belonging to Mr. Tsai, who had been missing since Saturday. The motive for the crime is baffling the police. It is pointed out that the Social Evening News had incurred the displeasure of the Japanese censors who suppressed it. Therefore, it is considered possible that the miscreants were pro-Japanese terrorists, whose note was intended to mislead the investigators. (Reuters).

KOREA RECOGNISES PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT

Shanghai, Feb. 7.

The provisional government of Peiping has appointed Consul representatives in four cities in Korea, according to an announcement made by the spokesman of the Japanese Embassy at this afternoon's press conference.

Asked whether this meant that the Japanese authorities in Korea had extended formal recognition to the provisional government, the spokesman replied, "It implies de facto relations."

The spokesman smilingly replied, "Not yet," when a correspondent asked him whether the provisional government had appointed an Ambassador to Tokyo. (Reuters).

BISHOPS' PROTEST

Berlin, Feb. 7.

A protest signed by the Bishops in Bavaria against the Government's suppression of Catholic youths organisations, was read in all Catholic churches yesterday.

The protest declares that suppression of the organisations was a violation of the concordat signed between the Nazi Government and the Vatican. Prohibition of the organisations was especially unfair as it was made under a decree against Communism.

The protest adds that the Catholic youths organisations were not Communism but Christian and were not opposed to the State but helping it. (Reuters Bulletin).

JAPANESE OPERATING AGAINST PIRATES NEAR LAKE TAI

The spokesman alleged that forces of pirates had been supplemented by Chinese irregulars and had dispossessed the farmers. The main attack was being waged against Toutingshan Island, in Lake Tai, which has been notorious as a pirate stronghold for many years. (Reuters).

"Confounded Liar," Says Witness To Lawyer

"I Will Commit You To Gaol," Retorts Judge!

Arising out of the sale in this Colony of Chinese National Salvation Bonds, a remuneration claim for $318.33 against four prominent Chinese citizens was heard before the Police Judge, Mr. Justice R. E. Lindell, in the Summary Court yesterday.

Plaintiff was Mr. Francis Yee, and defendants were the Hon. Sir Shou-son Chow, Mr. Kan Tong-po (Manager of the Bank of East Asia), Mr. Li Sing-kul (Chairman of the Chinese Chamber of Commerce), and Mr. Shou J. Chen (Manager of the Bank of China).

Plaintiff was represented by Mr. M. A. da Silva, while Mr. Peter H. Sin appeared for the first and fourth defendants and Mr. C. Y. Kwan for the second and third.

Sir Shou-son Chow and Mr. Chen brought a counter-claim for $385 damages by plaintiff's breach of duty in authorising or procuring the printing of 10,000 posters.

On the application of Mr. Sin and Mr. Kwan, the defendants were excused from attending Court yesterday.

$200 A MONTH

Outlining the case for the plaintiff, Mr. Silva said defendants were members of the Committee in charge of the sale in Hong Kong of the National Salvation Bonds. Plaintiff was engaged by them to conduct an advertising campaign in respect of the sale, and the campaign was agreed to be terminated on March 31, this year. It was verbally agreed, on October 26 last, that the remuneration to plaintiff should be at the rate of $200 per month from November 1, this remuneration to include salaries and wages of any clerks or helpers plaintiff might think fit to employ.

On November 15, Counsel continued, defendants wrongfully terminated the employment by notice in writing and refused to employ plaintiff any longer. The claim was made up of remuneration due to plaintiff from November 1 to December 14, and from December 15 to March 31, 1938.

In the witness box, plaintiff testified that the first person he saw in connection with the campaign was Mr. Lam (Sub-Manager of the Bank of China). That was in August last, when he gave Mr. Lam a rough idea of the campaign, at the same time mentioning compensation at the end of it and allowance to carry on in the meantime.

"GENEROUS ALLOWANCE"
A few days later, on the introduction of Mr. Lam, witness saw fourth defendant, and, during the interview, it was stated that the Committee in charge of the sale would appropriate a temporary sum of $2,000 to spend in advertising, etc. There was no mention of any fee, but he was given to understand that he would receive a very generous allowance at the end of the campaign, in addition to a substantial remuneration for the time being. It was also mentioned that the campaign would terminate on March 31.

Continuing, witness said that he was subsequently given a cocktail in the Bank of China building to use as office, and, on or about October 4, witness saw fourth defendant again with regard to the posters, one of which was in Chinese and the other only a rough sketch. In connection with the posting up of the Chinese poster, he was to get permission, and he saw Mr. Sin, the legal adviser to the Committee, and went with him to the S.C.A. for the purpose. Witness received, on October 8, a letter from Mr. Sin instructing him where the poster was to be put up.

"NOT TELLING LIES"
The rough sketch, witness went on to say, was later substituted by one bearing three planes and a house on fire. After this was approved, he made an order with the Rumford Printing Press for 10,000 copies at a cost of $385.

Mr. Sin: I put it to you that you are telling lies. You ordered your clerks to put up the second posters at random—I am not telling lies. You are a confounded liar.

His Lordship: Don't you talk to Counsel like that or I will commit you to gaol. You must moderate your language.

At this stage the hearing was adjourned till March 2, at 10 a.m.

DR. F.C. YEN

Health Director
Leaves For Hankow

Dr. Yen Fu-chen, newly-appointed Director of the National Health Administration of the Republic of China, left Hong Kong for Hankow yesterday morning by plane. He was farewelled by a large crowd of friends and government officers at present in the Colony.

Dr. Yen, who succeeds Dr. J. Heng Liu, will assume office immediately upon arrival in Hankow.

It is to be noted that the National Health Administration (Wei Sheng Shu), which, at the beginning of the Sino-Japanese hostilities was raised to the status of a Ministry under the control of the Executive Yuan, has for reasons of internal organization been again made a department of the Ministry of the Interior, a status under which it had formerly functioned since the establishment of the National Government in 1928.

The post of Director of the Administration, however, is of ministerial rank, though the department itself now is not a separate ministry.

FLUCTUATING FORTUNES AT SOOKUNPOO

By "New L.B.W."

Detractors of local cricket, Jeremiahs who moan about its slowness and dullness, hide your diminished heads! At Sookunpoo, at King's Park, and elsewhere on Saturday, cricket was played, which for interest and thrills would have taken a lot of beating.

Magnificent fielding, particularly in the way of the snapping-up of catches when a split second's hesitation meant the losing of the opportunity, was the essence of these thrills, and in this respect it is a moot point whether the Indians-Civil Services game at Sookunpoo, or the Kowloon-Hong Kong match at King's Park took the palm.

And then (once more the good old phrase, "the glorious uncertainty of cricket,") who, apart from the K. C. C. supporters, would have visualised that club beating last year's joint champions especially after they had been shot out for 85? I don't think there were half-a-dozen such people, and as for this humble critic, "include me out."

EARLY FAILURE

There was no fluke about it either, but, of that, more anon. I will take the I. R. C.-Civil Services game first.

Minu lost the toss and was sent in to bat on a wicket which looked the usual I.R.C. batsman's pitch. Seldom can looks have been more deceptive. Whether it was unwelcome liberality with the hose on the part of the ground raker or what, I don't know, but the wicket was extremely susceptible to spin, a fact which was soon evident when McEllan went on. In addition, the ball would periodically pop up for no apparent reason. Conversely, shooters were almost entirely absent.

The usual Indian pair opened, but Nazarin failed for the first time in League matches this season, being bowled by Baker after one boundary. Kitchell joined Ismail and scoring became very slow. Unnecessarily so, in my opinion. Baker was always dangerous, but Perry, who sent down a fair amount of loose balls, was treated with too much respect. It was true he was backed up by air tight fielding, but a half-volley is a half-volley and should, and can, be cleared for four by a batsman.

A NEAR COLLAPSE

When McEllan went on things became slower than ever, the main interest at this stage being some fine taking of leg balls by "Bill" Colledge. A little later, with the score around 30, came the first of the brilliant catches. Kitchell had previously hooked McEllan for four and attempted the stroke again, but this time the ball came up faster, with the result that he hit it square and not fine. Tamworth was fielding at deep square-leg. Making a lot of ground, he reached the ball as it was dropping on his toes and held it.

Ismail after batting 45 minutes for his 18 runs, fell victim to another fine catch, of a different type. Perry was fielding at leg-slip and after a number of tries McEllan bowled the ball he wanted, Ismail made the stroke he wanted and Perry took the catch he wanted, falling over in so doing.

Abbas was given out caught behind the wicket after scoring only 5 and it began to look like another of the famous I. R. C. collapses. Madar, however, never looked like getting out, settling down like the Rock of the Ages, and eschewing all risks (even in running!) Minu picked them judiciously in hitting his 26 and was unlucky to put up the simplest of catches off one that popped up.

A GREAT PARTNERSHIP. Arcull did not stay long and once again the balance had swung the other side when Arthur Rumjahn joined Madar, a bare 90 runs being scored with half the batsmen gone. The two settled down to a partnership that might almost be described as great.

Madar continued to bat as though his side was in the gravest danger, as, indeed, he was probably justified in thinking, and presented a dead bat to anything on the wicket that was not short enough to be pulled or cut without any risk. Rumjahn, however, after looking hard at a few balls to get his eye in, proceeded to hit, showing a judgment in his placing as fine as it was remarkable.

CHEEKY RUNNING. Best feature of the partnership, however, was the amazingly cheeky running of the pair. Cheeky, but carrying a minimum of risk because of the almost uncanny understanding. Calling appeared to be unnecessary; only when one had to be sent back because the other considered there was too much danger in attempting a short one, was a sharp "No" heard. During this period the C. S. fielding degenerated from its previously high standard, but running of this type is enough to disconcert any fielding side.

Eventually Rumjahn paid the penalty for over-audacity and was run out by yards, but by then he had got his 50 and the game was practically safe. His best shots were hits over the bowler's head and to leg and two chances in his thirties detracted little from a great display. Madar was not out with 37 when the closure was applied at 107. His was a fine knock. In the best tradition of a "sheet-anchor."

TOO MANY CUP GAMES BAD FOR FOOTBALL

Mr. J. McKelvie Suggests Drastic Reduction

"We are having far too many Cup games and I propose that when we draw up the programme for the next season we should try to cut this particular brand of football down by half," said Mr. J. McKelvie at the monthly meeting of the Football Association Council last evening.

Mr. McKelvie's proposal was followed by some considerable discussion and the general opinion expressed seemed to favour Mr. McKelvie who said that the Cup matches, confined as they were, to a mere handful of players, tended to make the rest of the footballers lose interest in the game.

Mr. Walter Pryde, president, at the meeting, those present being Messrs. C. D. Carrier (Hon. Sec.), W. L. Alexander (Hon. Treas.), Mr. McKelvie, E. Strange, A. R. S. Major, W. E. Hollands, C. A. Goldenberg, C. Guisagant, Lieut. Neill, Lieut. Peel and Com. Gnr. Warren.

Corinthians' Visit

The Council decided that a dinner should be held in honour of the Islington Corinthians and a sub-committee, consisting of Messrs. J. McKelvie, C. Guisagant and Com. Gnr. Warren was appointed to look after the arrangements.

The Hon. Secretary informed the meeting that a complaint had been received from the Middlesex Regiment against the refereeing of their match against the Eastern Football Club last Saturday. The meeting decided to refer this to the Referees' Committee.

A letter was also received from the 5th A. A. Bde. R.A., stating that the Royal Engineers failed to turn up for their match with them on February 1, and asked that the points be awarded them. On the proposal of Mr. Hollands it was decided to leave the matter to the League Management Committee.

INSIDE FORWARD

L. Bradbury, who is a member of the Islington Corinthians, due in the Colony shortly for a series of exhibition matches, plays for Moor Green Club. Is an Amateur International. Played for England v. Ireland, 1936, Capt. of Lancashire County, 1936. Played for English Universities in international students games 1935. A very intellectual inside forward. Age 23 years, is a university student.

According to reports just received in the Colony Bradbury played a very good game at inside-left against a combined Singapore team at the Anson Road Stadium last week when the Corinthians won by 3 goals to 2.

TSUI WAI-PUI FOR SINGLES TITLE?

A very interesting stage has been reached in the tennis tournament at the Chinese Recreation Club and given good weather some fine matches should be seen during the week.

In the singles championship Tsui Wai-pui, the favourite, is due to meet Y. W. Lee in the semi-final and should have no difficulty in winning. The next semi-final here will be fought out between Paul Kong and the younger ("Yan Pul") Tsui. This match was to have been played on Sunday but was postponed because of the rain.

The doubles championship has also reached the closing stages and in the semi-final (top half) Tsui Wai-pui and Willie Hung will meet Y. W. Lee and Sze-to Bick while in the lower half Paul Kong and Tsui Yan-pui will meet Yu Tak-cheuk and Wong Shu-wing.

Results of the matches, up-to-date are:—

SINGLES CHAMPIONSHIP

W. C. Hung beat Yu Tak-cheuk, 6-3, 7-5, 6-6, 7-5.

Tsui Wai-pui beat Leung Ping-chiu, 6-2, 6-2, 6-3.

Paul Kong beat Wong Shu-wing, 9-7, 6-2 (third set defaulted).

Tsui Yan-pui beat H. Y. Ho, 6-1, 6-2, 6-1.

DOUBLES CHAMPIONSHIP

W. P. Tsui and W. C. Hung beat S. W. Liang and F. H. Kwok, 6-3, 4-6, 6-3, 6-3.

HANDICAP SINGLES

K. Y. Wong +30 beat F. Kwok -30/6, 6-0, 2-6, 6-3.

Y. W. Lee +40 beat C. Y. Yung -15/4/6, 6-4, 6-0.

Lung Ping-chiu -30/4/6 beat Peter Yiu 15/3/6, 6-2, 6-2; beat W. K. Ma (scratch) 8-6, 6-4.

C. T. Wei +3/6 beat H. Y. Ho +5/6, 6-1, 6-1.

HANDICAP DOUBLES

H. N. Chan and T. F. Lo +4/6 beat W. C. Hung and H. Y. Ho -3/6, 6-3, 6-3.

P. Kong and C. Y. Yung (scratch) beat T. F. Lo and H. N. Chan +4/6, 6-2, 3-6, 6-2.

S. W. Liang and W. K. Lee (scratch) beat Tsui Wai-pui and C. T. Wei -30, 6-3, 6-3.

Tsui Yan-pui and Y. W. Chung -2/6 beat L. F. Liu and W. C. Choy +3/6, 6-4, 7-5.

Other contenders:—

But it is not going to be a walk-over. Sirdar Rumjahn, his cousin H.D., Teddy Fincher and Lee (if he plays) are by no means back numbers, and should Tsui meet any one of these at his best when he himself is experiencing an off-day, anything is possible.

Willie Hung, though essentially a doubles player, is also capable of pulling off something sensational, as is the younger Tsui. In fact, it will be recalled that the latter took his brother by surprise in a charity exhibition at the Chinese Recreation Club some months ago, when he beat him in a one-set match.

DOUBLES MORE OPEN. The doubles event appears to be more open and the Rumjahn cousins will have hard work indeed to retain their title.

The Tsui brothers have, I believe, teamed up again, and will offer the strongest challenge. Fans will remember the great match two years ago, when, in a semi-final meeting, the brothers beat the cousins after the latter had regained supremacy in this competition since 1925.

I am not quite sure who Hung is pairing up with but barring accidents he and his partner will be in at the kill.

Liang and Kwok will, I presume, be teaming up again, as will Gosano and Remedios and with neither pair can any liberties be taken.

PROMISING YOUNGSTER. I shall be very interested to see how young George Choa will fare in the Tournament. With a nice style, tremendously keen on the game, and learning fast, Choa is one of the most promising of the rising players and needs only a greater repertoire of strokes and wider experience to bring him to the forefront.

THE TEAM IS AS FOLLOWS:—P. Crowe (Blackrock); Daly (Harlequins); Bailey, McMahon, Lytle (Collegians); Cromey, Morgan; Alexander, Graves, Irwin (North Ireland); Mayne, McGaw, A. Loughlin (University College); Ryan and Walker.—(Reuter).

SCOTLAND'S TEAM. The game between Scotland and Ireland will be played at Murrayfield on February 26, when Scotland will be represented by:—

"G. Roberts (Watsonians); A. H. Drummond (Kelvinside Academicals); R. C. S. Dick (Guy's Hospital); D. J. Macrae (St. Andrews University); and J. G. S. Forrest (Cambridge University); R. W. Shaw (Glasgow High School, F.P.) and T. F. Dorrward (Glasgow); J. B. Borthwick (Stewart's College, F.P.); J. D. Hastie (Melrose); W. M. Inglis (Royal Engineers); G. B. Horsburgh (London Scottish); A. The annual open tennis tournament is almost at hand again and the entry list is at present scheduled to close at 6 p.m. on Saturday. Though nothing like the complete list is to hand, it may be of interest to inspect the likely "starters" and discuss their chances.

The two most important events are, of course, the Men's Singles and Men's Doubles Championships, and in these categories the names of many stalwarts come to mind at once: Tsui Wai-pui, Sirdar Rumjahn, Teddy Fincher, H. D. Rumjahn, Willie Hung, Tsui Yun-Pui, Paul Kong, Ernie Fincher, S. W. Liang, Frank Kwok, Yu Tak-cheuk, J. Leonard, A. V. Gosano, A. V. Remedios, L. Goldman, A. L. Sullivan, Lee Wai-ton, S. W. Wong, P. F. Choy, G. C. Burnet, S. A. Gray, Robert Choa, George Choa, A. Crawford, etc., etc.

It may be taken for granted that most of the above will take part, and it is a matter of some regret that there are practically no new names.

The Singles crown would appear to be a certainty for Tsui Wai-pui, and it is a brave man who would put money down against him.

Tsui does not seem quite to have benefited as much as he might from his European trip but there is no doubt he has improved, both in technique and execution of strokes. He has, of course, also gained much experience for one month of watching—not to mention playing with—world-class men must be equal to one year of practice locally.

OTHER CONTENTENDERS. But it is not going to be a walk-over. Sirdar Rumjahn, his cousin H.D., Teddy Fincher and Lee (if he plays) are by no means back numbers, and should Tsui meet any one of these at his best when he himself is experiencing an off-day, anything is possible.

Willie Hung, though essentially a doubles player, is also capable of pulling off something sensational, as is the younger Tsui. In fact, it will be recalled that the latter took his brother by surprise in a charity exhibition at the Chinese Recreation Club some months ago, when he beat him in a one-set match.

DOUBLES MORE OPEN. The doubles event appears to be more open and the Rumjahn cousins will have hard work indeed to retain their title.

The Tsui brothers have, I believe, teamed up again, and will offer the strongest challenge. Fans will remember the great match two years ago, when, in a semi-final meeting, the brothers beat the cousins after the latter had regained supremacy in this competition since 1925.

I am not quite sure who Hung is pairing up with but barring accidents he and his partner will be in at the kill.

Liang and Kwok will, I presume, be teaming up again, as will Gosano and Remedios and with neither pair can any liberties be taken.

PROMISING YOUNGSTER. I shall be very interested to see how young George Choa will fare in the Tournament. With a nice style, tremendously keen on the game, and learning fast, Choa is one of the most promising of the rising players and needs only a greater repertoire of strokes and wider experience to bring him to the forefront.

THE TEAM IS AS FOLLOWS:—P. Crowe (Blackrock); Daly (Harlequins); Bailey, McMahon, Lytle (Collegians); Cromey, Morgan; Alexander, Graves, Irwin (North Ireland); Mayne, McGaw, A. Loughlin (University College); Ryan and Walker.—(Reuter).

SCOTLAND'S TEAM. The game between Scotland and Ireland will be played at Murrayfield on February 26, when Scotland will be represented by:—

"G. Roberts (Watsonians); A. H. Drummond (Kelvinside Academicals); R. C. S. Dick (Guy's Hospital); D. J. Macrae (St. Andrews University); and J. G. S. Forrest (Cambridge University); R. W. Shaw (Glasgow High School, F.P.) and T. F. Dorrward (Glasgow); J. B. Borthwick (Stewart's College, F.P.); J. D. Hastie (Melrose); W. M. Inglis (Royal Engineers); G. B. Horsburgh (London Scottish); A. Roy (Waterloo); W. B. Young (Cambridge University); P. L. Dunn (Glasgow Academicals); and W. H. Crawford (United Services)."

How to get rid of Disfiguring Blemishes

How much younger would you look and feel if your skin was clear and entirely free from blemish?

Pimples, spots, blackheads, enlarged pores, burning irritations and ugly complexion defects are woman's most common "aging" enemies. To all who suffer, Cuticura presents the most simple and effective way to clear the skin.

Cleanse the skin with Cuticura Soap twice a day. Its luxuriant, mildly antiseptic lather is soothing and softening; washes away pore-deep dust and grime which develop blackheads, enlarged pores and ugly complexion defects. And to rid the skin of pimples, outbreaks, rashes or irritations use Cuticura Ointment direct on the affected part before washing with the soap. Its antiseptic action kills germs, soothes and heals and quickly clears the skin.

Try this treatment to-day, see how your skin begins to look clearer and fresher; your complexion smoother, lovelier, more attractive than ever before.

Cuticura For Clear Healthy Skin

Sold by all Chemists and Stores. Ask for Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. And for powder use Cuticura Talcum—exceptionally fine and pure, exquisitely perfumed.

TRANSPORT ENGINEER RETIRE.

London Transport's chief engineer, Mr. Arthur Reginald Cooper, has retired after 37 years' work. His last duty was to sign contract specifications for the quietening of 5 1/2 miles of line between Golders Green and Camden Town.

This aim, Mr. Cooper's principal problem for years, is to be achieved by specially welded rails, running a grinding car over the lines at night to make them smooth, and lining the tunnels with noise-absorbing material.

All Mr. Cooper's recommendations have been adopted by the Board. During his career he has handled contracts involving the expenditure of millions.

HISTORIC LONDON HOTEL TO CLOSE

One of London's oldest historic hotels—the Arundel, which faces the Thames from the foot of Arundel-street, Strand—will be closed shortly, and will be converted into offices.

As Arundel House, town residence of the Earls of Arundel, it was visited by Charles I. Pepys and William Penn.

More than 200 years ago it became an hotel, and was one of the London Inns of which Dickens wrote.

CHINESE PUZZLE

The Trade Balance

Between them Dr. Ho, M. Gignoux, and President Roosevelt set markets recently a triple problem in evaluation. For a time Chinese bonds became almost nominal; the three months discount on forward francs went out to 10 1/2; dollar stocks rose above the New York parity. As usually happens, first impressions were partly modified later in the day. But it cannot be said that the markets really knew where they stood even at the close of business.

The movement in the China Four-and-a-Half per cent. bonds of 1898 sufficiently illustrates the serious effect produced by Dr. Ho's statement to foreign journalists in Hankow; due to be paid off at the latest in 1943, and carrying a first charge on the Customs, these bonds, which were priced at about 83 overnight, were called 75 yesterday morning, changed hands down to 64, and were finally quoted at 70, a net drop of 13 points on the day.

Two points need to be made with regard to Dr. Ho's suggestion that China may be unable to meet her foreign debt service, or rather with regard to the grounds on which the suggestion was put forward.

The first is that until November any rate the service of the foreign as distinct from the internal loans still seemed to be covered on the basis of the published receipts of the Customs, and it is difficult to believe that the later course of receipts can have been such as to justify Dr. Ho's statement that the Customs revenue for the second half of the year was insufficient to meet the interest on the foreign loans. It may be true, perhaps, that the Central Bank of China has been called upon to make up the quota of the foreign debt service seized at Tientsin and elsewhere by Japan.

FRANCE AND AMERICA

The second point is that Japan has not so far as is known, disavowed the willingness which it was credibly reported, she showed in the negotiations for a solution of the Customs question in North China to release the quota necessary to pay foreign bond interest from the revenues within her control. She may, of course, have insisted that no part of such revenues should be used to meet the service of China's internal loans. Interested in Chinese bonds herself, she may well stop short of discrimination against other foreign bondholders.

The refusal of M. Gignoux on behalf of the French Employers' Federation to join the conference of employers and French trade unions produced another wave of selling of francs on the exchange market. The labour position, in fact, is now exercising greater influence upon the trend of the franc than the position of the Treasury. In other circumstances the tax returns for last month, which show an encouraging surplus on the estimates, have been expected to drive the "bears" to cover; the pressure did indeed slacken towards the close.

TURN AWAY WRATH

After his Jackson Day speech Pres. Roosevelt's conference with America's industrial leaders came as an answer to turn away wrath, and the late rally in Wall Street was carried further in London's opening prices. Second thoughts, however, brought a reaction. The market finds it difficult to choose its way between what the President says he intends to do and what he actually does.

SECURITY OF THE CUSTOMS LOANS

Total Chinese Customs revenue amounted last year to $342,000,000 and in 1936 to $324,000,000; thus in both years it was sufficient to cover the service, which requires about $77,000,000, more than four times over, and consequently the total volume of trade, strictly speaking, could decline by 75 per cent. without jeopardizing interest payments. From the figures given below it will be seen that up to the end of October total imports had declined by roughly 50 per cent. compared with the monthly average for 1936. At Shanghai, for which port the November return is now available, the decline was, of course, much greater, but the latest figures indicate an incipient revival there.

AIR PHOTOGRAPHS AID HUNT

FOR GOLD

Ottawa, Canada—Keeping pace with the times and the increasing demand for topographical and geological maps by the mining industry, map makers of the Mines and Geology Branch, Department of Mines and Resources, Ottawa, are using airplanes extensively for topographical survey work.

Mapping by the time-honoured methods of ground survey is a slow and tedious process, and the task of mapping topographically and geologically the 34 million square miles comprising the Dominion of Canada is no small undertaking. Fortunately, the newer technique of surveying by means of photography from airplanes is applicable to most Canadian terrain and has so speeded up the field work of the map makers that they are able to survey in a few hours what would formerly have taken months.

Two methods are employed, oblique and vertical photography. With the former each negative covers a large expanse of territory and is suitable for maps in which minute detail is not required; the latter covers much less territory but makes possible minutely detailed and contoured maps. Previous to 1922, the year in which aerial mapping was adopted, some 240,000 square miles had been mapped on a scale of four miles to the inch or larger, ninety per cent being in settled areas. Since that year 480,000 square miles have been so mapped, ninety-five per cent of which was in unsettled country.

Such topographical maps are used extensively by prospectors and exploration companies, as are photographic prints, from the original vertical negatives, in determining the type of country they are about to enter, and are often the only guide available for use in planning expeditions and for directing operations once the party is in the field. These maps and prints also perform a two-fold service for the geologist, permitting quick identification of physical features on the ground and serving as a base for the plotting of geological information and deduction in the office.

TORQUAY OF THE #### FAR EAST

Tsingtao A Resort
Germans Built

Thousands of "old China hands," those who built up foreign trade with the Far East, recently read of burning and looting at Tsingtao by fleeing Chinese with the greatest regret. For Tsingtao is the most beautiful seaside town in China. For many years it was the most fashionable holiday resort—the Torquay of the Far East.

The town was built by the Germans before 1900. It progressed till it compared with almost any seaside place in the world.

The Japanese are no strangers to the place. They bombarded it in 1914 and took control till they handed it back to China in 1932. The Germans finally were driven out in November, 1914. At once the Japanese reaped the benefit of the millions of pounds spent there by the former occupants.

A promenade along the front for two miles, two magnificent hotels which compared with any others in the world, beautiful walks in the surrounding forests, and parks on the hills were among the amenities.

BIG EXPORT TRADE

Tsingtao was the German Far Eastern naval base. Hundreds of thousands of pounds, had been spent on forts, modern docks and piers to deal with the export trade of rich Shantung Province. The old German forts are contained in huge caverns in high rocks and reached by lifts. They are still intact and one of the sights of China.

Germany was justly proud of Tsingtao. It was difficult to realise that one was in China on arrival at the port. It was a veritable fairyland of lights and laughter for five months of the year.

The two big hotels, the Grand, in the town, and the Strand, the front of which swept down to the edge of the blue waters in the bay, were booked up months before the season began.

MODEL TOWN

The Germans made it a model town with a racecourse, sports grounds, and clubs. The many villas which dotted the hills above the promenade made it the most satisfying scene for the business men of China and their families.

The Kaiser took a great interest in the progress of the Colony, and once described it as "the brightest jewel in my Imperial crown."

If trade be restored to some sort of working order within the next few months in China it is certain that Tsingtao will provide a haven for many foreigners in the coming summer.

In short, Tsingtao is not just another Chinese town taken by the Japanese, but a magnificent structure built by foreigners as a gateway for the exports of the surrounding territory.

Shanghai

	Sept.	Oct.	Nov.	1936
Imports	7,467	8,862	10,391	46,235
Exports	27,933	14,231	13,027	30,190

Any conclusion reached in advance of the full year's returns may well be premature, but it would at least seem that China's trade is showing a remarkable resiliency.

HEAVY FIGHTING NEAR FANGSHAN

Chinese Losses Are Great

Shanghai, Feb. 6.

Very heavy fighting is going on near Fangshan, about twelve miles north-west of Tientsin, and about the same distance south-west of Pengu in the province of Anhwei, according to reports reaching Shanghai on Sunday.

The Chinese are reported to have suffered heavily and been compelled to withdraw their forces in the direction of Fengtai, on the northern bank of the Hwai River, and to Showien, which lies on the southern bank of the same river.

Following the capture of Pengu, the Japanese are reported to be advancing in a northerly direction, where the Chinese resistance has apparently collapsed entirely. It is claimed that the Japanese detachments which are advancing on Hsuehchow, have now got to within 85 miles of this important junction of the Tientsin-Pukow and Lunghai Railways. Japanese military quarters are now predicting the capture of Hsuehchow in about two weeks from now.

In connection with this battle for Hsuehchow, speculation is rife as to whether the Japanese will content themselves with the control of the entire Tientsin-Pukow Railway or whether they plan to advance further westwards along the Lunghai Railway with the object of getting possession of Chengchow which lies at the junction of the Lunghai Railway with the Peiping-Hankow line.

Chengchow is situated only some 310 miles north of Hankow. The Japanese advance on Chengchow would mean very considerable extension of their rearward lines of communication and the consequent increased danger of being effectively harassed by the Chinese guerilla bands. (Trans-Ocean).

NAVAL SECRECY TO BE MAINTAINED

Japan's Attitude To Representations

Tokyo, Feb. 6.

It is learned that Japan will reply to the representations made by Great Britain, the United States and France in the matter of Japan's alleged intention to build larger battleships, but that this reply will not disclose anything about Japanese naval plans. The decision to this effect has already been taken, it is understood, following important deliberations in the Japanese Ministry of Marine. A formal reply to Great Britain, the United States and France will be communicated on February 20.

Japanese naval circles are said to deplore this joint action on the part of the three Powers, which is regarded as an excuse for expediting their own rearmament. Japan, it is insisted, is bound by no treaty, and is hence under no obligation to accept proposals made by these three Powers, or to reply to them within a prescribed period.

Nevertheless, Japan will reply to these representations in order to clarify, beyond doubt, the international situation which has undergone a change as the result of the adoption, by the three Powers concerned, of the policy of rearmament. (Trans-Ocean).

JAPANESE TROOPS ON CHIKIAU

Landing Purely For Exercise?

Canton, Feb. 7.

The Japanese troops which landed at Chikiau Island, near Tongkwan yesterday morning are still on the island, according to a Chinese official report, while seven Japanese warships have remained in the vicinity.

However, no further bombardment or activity has taken place since yesterday, which seems to confirm the earlier suppositions that the landing was purely for reasons of exercise.

Meanwhile there have been no further reports of attacks on the Bocca Tigris forts and no Japanese vessels were apparently operating in this stretch of water during the week-end. (Reuter).

JAPANESE ATTEMPT TO OBTAIN CREDIT

A letter signed by the leaders of the Chinese People's Foreign Relations Association and six other organizations of the Chinese people was sent to Mr. Nelson T. Johnson, the American Ambassador to China recently, states the Central China Post. The communication was concerned with the recent news of Japan's approach to get a credit of $50,000,000 in the United States, and was personally presented to the Ambassador by Dr. K. T. Chung, Chairman of the said Association, Mr. L. S. Peng of the local "X" and Miss C. Y. Chen, General Secretary of the Hankow Y. W. C. A. The text of the letter is as follows:—

H. E. Mr. Nelson T. Johnson, U. S. Ambassador in China, Your Excellency:

We beg to invite your attention to the matter of the latest Japanese attempt to obtain credit in the United States.

According to the story carried in the New York Times, Mr. T. J. Watson, President of both the International Business Machines Corporation in New York and the American Section of the International Chamber of Commerce, has been approached by the Japanese industrial interests with a view to establishing a credit of $50,000,000 in the United States for the purchase of a plant for the Manchurian Heavy Industrial Development Company, which was organized on December 1, 1937, to take over the heavy industries of Manchuria.

The function of heavy industry in war time being familiar to all, the people of China have been greatly perturbed by the report.

We are, however, confident that the American Government as well as the American people would not entertain the Japanese approach with favour. In fact, we have noted with great satisfaction in the later report appearing in the same journal stating that the official circles in Washington would regard with disfavour any such proposal from the Japanese interests and for such a purpose.

RE-ASSURED

The Chinese people have been assured and re-assured by the attitude of the United States as against international aggression, non-observance of laws of humanity. We sincerely hope that such attitude of the United States will in time become a great contribution to the cause of international peace in the Far East and in the world at large.

Your Excellency is cordially requested to use your good offices to let the American financial and industrial leaders know the intentions of Japan and to what end the Japanese heavy industries are directed.

Respectfully submitted by

The People's Foreign Relations Association of China, The Hankow Chamber of Commerce, The All-China Seamen's Union, The Federation of the Chinese Women's Organizations, The Chinese Students' Federation, The China Branch of the World Peace Campaign, The Chinese League of Nations Union.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT OF NORTH CHINA

Tokyo, Feb. 7.

Arrangements have been made for a conversation between Mr. Hattosaburo Hira, president of the semi-official Japan Iron Manufacturing Company, and General Hasegawa Terauchi, Commander-in-Chief of the Japanese Expeditionary Force, on the economic development of North China, according to Japanese reports received here from Peking.

Mr. Hira, who, it is stated, will become the supreme economic adviser to the new "Provisional Government" arrived at Peking on February 5 from Japan. (Reuter).

PALACE DEMOLISHED

Hopes Of Finding Hidden Treasure

The palace of Pizarro, famous conquistador, in Lima (Peru) is being rapidly pulled down. On its site a new building is to be constructed at a cost of £20,000.

The whole of the north front has already been demolished and soon the south front will also disappear.

There is a general feeling that the cellar should be preserved as it is widely believed that somewhere in those vaults Pizarro hid 1,000,000 gold pesos shortly before his death in 1541.

A search for this lost treasure is being planned while the reconstruction is in progress.

BIG BATTLE CONTINUES

Artillery Duel Proceeding

Hankow, Feb. 6.

Chinese reports state that the big battle for the possession of the banks of the Hwai River, which runs through the northern part of Anhwei Province, in Central China, was continued throughout Sunday.

Japanese detachments made renewed attempts to cross the Hwai River with the intention of advancing on Hangchow, an important railway junction, but were successfully taken under fire by the Chinese artillery. The artillery duel is still proceeding, according to reports reaching Hankow.

Judging from these reports, the Japanese have not succeeded in taking the town of Hwaiyuan which lies on the north bank of Hwai River, about nine miles west of Pengu, but it is admitted that a minor revolt of Chinese troops had occurred in Hwaiyuan. It is claimed that this band of traitors has already been surrounded by Chinese regulars and that the revolt has been crushed. The Chinese connection between Hangchow and Hwaiyuan is still intact.

JAPANESE ADVANCE HALTED

The Chinese launched an attack in the direction of Pengu, but, according to the latest reports, apparently without success. On the other hand, the Chinese claim to have halted the Japanese advance in the northerly direction. Furthermore, the Japanese attempts to strike out westwards from Tientsin have failed owing to the effective Chinese resistance. It is presumed in Chinese military circles that these latter attacks have served to reveal a Japanese plan to attempt a crossing of the Hwai River further westward, probably in the neighbourhood of Tienchalyuan, the terminus of the Hwaihai Railway where the river bed is considerably narrower.

The Chinese command has rushed reinforcements to this region with the object of defeating this move. As things stand at the moment, several days of continuous fighting for the possession of Hsuehchow has helped to confirm the belief of the Chinese authorities in Hankow in the ability of General Li Cheng Juan to hold that town where he is reported to have introduced a regime of iron discipline.

In the northern sector of the Tientsin-Pukow Railway, that is in Southern Shantung, the lull in the fighting continued throughout Sunday, according to reports reaching Hankow. (Trans-Ocean).

CANADA
LAST YEARHalifax, Canada—While fishing gears are being overhauled for use during the coming summer, tall tales are being told of last year's catch, particularly among gatherings of sportsmen who have been including in the thrilling sport of catching tuna fish with rod and line off the Canadian Atlantic coast.Fishing off one section of the Nova Scotia coast last summer sport fishermen landed 54 tuna with rod and line, and the fish weighed 30,840 pounds or, on the average, about 570 pounds. The figures come from the reports of the federal fisheries inspector for the district and are uncontested.In another district 60 tuna were landed by anglers. And in another 181 with a total weight of almost 50,000 pounds. Tuna, of course, are also taken commercially. This year's commercial catch was about 897,000 pounds.PRESSURE OF NAVAL WORK IN ITALYMerchant Marine Short
Of ShipsItalian shipping increased by 117,000 tons in 1936-37, or 3.38 per cent, and according to the Marine Italiano, this was principally due to the purchase of second-hand ships for only four vessels, of 4,410 tons, were constructed.In 1935-36 shipping increased by 219,000 tons, mainly due to the acquisition, of old cargo and passenger ships for military transport. Even with these ships the Italian fleet is still 100,000 tons or 3.1 per cent below the total for 1931 and 157,000 tons or 4.7 per cent below the figure for 1932, when the fleet reached its peak level.At present Italian tramp owners, the journal says, meet with almost insurmountable obstacles in the way of getting foreign exchange for the purchase of second-hand ships and it is impossible to proceed with new construction owing to the lack of steel and the pressure of work at the yards for naval purposes.The journal considers that it is also necessary to consider the question of new construction in the liner services.P.O. BRITISH INDIA-APCAR AND

AROMIN ISSUES CHALLENGE

HARVEY CAN MAKE 150 POUNDS

Seaman Bob Harvey informed me last night that he is ready to meet Battling Rio or any other man in the Colony at 150 lbs., provided the fight is staged by any association or bona fide promoter.

I had a conversation with a well-known local sportsman yesterday and he appeared very interested in the idea. Negotiations are now in progress to stage a tournament and the chances are that this will materialise very shortly.

BLACKETT EQUALS WORLD RECORD

Panama, Feb. 6
Jennings Blackett, of Panama, and Jacinto Ortiz, of Cuba, both equalled the world's record of 10.3 seconds in the semi-finals of the 100 metres dash at the Central American Caribbean Olympic Games today. (Reuter).

In "Feather" Division

WILL THERE BE PROMOTER?

(To The Editor, The Hong Kong Daily Press.)

Dear Sir,—I have followed the articles on boxing, published in your paper, with much interest and I am writing to ask that you be good enough to publish a challenge on my behalf against any featherweight in the Colony.

I held the bantamweight title formerly but am now in the featherweight class. As far as I know there is no holder of this title as the former champion, Bud Whelan, is no longer in the Colony. If, however, he should still be here, I will be glad to meet him.

In the meantime what about a promoter to stage the fight? There are a number of us aching to get into the ring again.

Yours etc.,
YOUNG AROMIN.

Hong Kong, February 7.

MORE BOXERS FROM CUMBERLAND

Provided opponents can be found, for them Seaman Glover (light welter), Seaman Sadler (140 pounds), and Seaman Bowen (144 pounds), all of H.M.S. Cumberland are willing to appear in a boxing card sponsored by a recognised body in Hong Kong.

The three men, shipmates of Seaman Bob Harvey, the China Fleet welter-weight champion, are in strict training and, so I have been informed, ready to step into the ring at any time.

KOWLOON JUNIOR SCHOOL SPORTS

The Kowloon Junior School will hold their annual Sports' Day on the grounds of the Kowloon Cricket Club, on Thursday, February 17, at 9.30 a.m.

Mrs. G. R. Sayer, wife of the Director of Education, will distribute the awards.

FIRST LEAGUE GAMES PROVIDE THRILLS

Both Baker and McLellan sent down some steady stuff, with an occasional very good ball, but Perry's figures were poor and striding them one wonders at the respect paid him by the earlier bats. Mention must also be made of the keeping of Colledge, who, in addition to taking some difficult ones on the leg, from both McLellan and Baker, took two catches.

GOOD START, BUT.....

The C. S. went off to a flying start, Colledge and Daniels, promoted from the second team, being at home from the beginning, and when 50 went up without loss things began to look a trifle serious for the Indians. Then Arculi took a catch at the second attempt to dismiss Colledge, and a little later Daniels was stumped—a good piece of work.

Both had played very neat innings, Daniels' sure hitting being good to watch.

After that only McLellan ran into double figures and towards the end it became a question as to whether the Indians could get the other side out before rain and bad light suspended play. Thanks to accurate bowling and fine fielding, they did. The putting on of A. R. Kitchell with the tail enders in was a nice stroke of tactics and he took four wickets for only 12 runs. He bowled Wood and Whitley with balls that were half-brothers to full-tosses.

REFLECTIONS

It was a much more interesting, and closer, game than the scores indicate. First of all, the Indians were up against it. Then came the Rumjahn-Madar partnership and a complete swing-round, and when they declared I am sure all thought of defeat had been put aside. Then Daniels and Colledge put up 58 before the first fell and, with the prospect of Perry, McLellan, Baker and Hawkins—each of whom might knock up 30 or 40 in short time—to follow, things looked a little bleak for the home side. Three wickets then fell quickly and the run again shone for the potential Champions and never set again.

AMAZING WIN

Donald Anderson 16, E. F. Fincher 27, Lloyd 16, Kowloon total 85. That was the brief summary of affairs at Austin Road around 4 o'clock, and the expressions on the faces of half the side when they went out to field would have done credit to the most serious of critics sitting at a dramatic performance.

Fate, however, decreed that the Cricket Club's success should be short-lived. Bowling one of his best matches for a long time, Robbie Lee, from the moment O'Brien held Leckle for him, became a menace to each and every Club batsman that faced him, and was ably backed up by Lloyd, who bringing the ball down from a height, got a lot out of the pitch.

In a way Lee had bad luck and might easily have secured another wicket or two. He beat Alec Pearce on at least two occasions before he finally got him to play one back, and Haynes, might have been his wicket. The bowlers' analyses were five for 32 and four for 3, respectively and well did they deserve it. They were backed up by great fielding, both on the ground and catching. Anderson held four, two of which were very difficult, and O'Brien had two.

In Kowloon's innings Owen-Hughes bowled unchanged, and very steadily, but was left to Leckle to return the best figures—5.1-10-15. He was put on last change. Owen-Hughes had four for 49.

BRILLIANT BOWLING

Despite his damaged knee, Eddie Gosano played against Craigengower, and contributed 47 to Kowloon's total of 109.

Billmorris bowled brilliantly for his seven wickets, sending down 16.3 overs and allowing only 20 runs to be hit off him. He would have had even better figures if Gosano had not been rather rough on him.

A margin of five wickets appears to be quite large but actually there was not so much in it. Francis Zimmerman's 50 not out was invaluable, and had he been held fairly early on, a different story might have been told. Harry Esmail (17) and George Souza (16) gave him valuable support.

FIGHTING FINISH FOR LEAGUE HONOURS?

These results leave the First Division in an extremely interesting position. On the face of it the Indians (Played 5, won 4, drew 1, 13 points), would appear to be on a good thing. Closer examination reveals that the finish will be tighter than that.

The finish will be tighter than that. Kowloon and Craigengower (each played 5, won 3, drew 2, 11 points) are both two points behind, but the Indians have still to play Hong Kong and Kowloon.

In fact, though I rather think the I. R. C. will do it (reasons follow), I am not inclined to dispute the statement made by one Valley fan after Saturday's games that Craigengower have as good chances. His reason, I believe, is based on the fact that Craigengower have, for some years, done by no means badly against the Club, most of the time when the latter team were challengers for the Shield, and therefore should now beat them when they are out of the running.

My reasons for favouring the Indians is that, for the past good number of seasons, they have not lost to the Club, and on current form, they should beat them this year, particularly as the game will be at Sookpoo. Once they have beaten the Club, they need only to draw with Kowloon and the Shield is theirs. If, of course, either, or both, of the other two teams slip up next week, then things will be simplified still more.

However, these are all conjectures. What is indisputable is the fact that the race for senior cricket honours is once more seeing an exciting finish and the keen interest shown, particularly that by many non-participants, should dispel any doubt, if indeed doubt exists, that the popularity of the game locally is as great as ever.

I hope to deal with the rest of the games on Friday.

No Objections To Fight

WHO WILL MEET HARVEY?

By "Ex-Weller"

I learn from an authoritative source that there will be no objection to Seaman Bob Harvey appearing in the local ring if a suitable opponent can be found for him, and if there is some reliable body to promote the fight.

Some doubt was expressed as to whether Harvey will be able to obtain permission from his Commanding Officer but this appears to be assured.

A number of sportsmen informed me that they will be approaching the Police with a view to securing permission to stage a tournament. If all provisions and regulations are adhered to, I see no reason why permission should not be forthcoming in which case boxing enthusiasts in the Colony might yet see something of their favourite sport.
